James L. Dolan

Executive Chairman, The Madison Square Garden Company

James L. Dolan is executive chairman of The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG), a leading sports and entertainment company renowned for its world-famous arena complex, professional sports teams, entertainment properties and historic showplaces. Mr. Dolan also serves as executive chairman of MSG Networks Inc., which includes two award-winning regional sports and entertainment networks, and is chief executive officer of Cablevision Systems Corporation, one of the nation's leading media and telecommunications companies.

In his role at MSG, Mr. Dolan is responsible for the Company's overall growth strategy and oversight of all of its operations. He also serves as governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and New York Rangers.

Throughout his tenure, Mr. Dolan has spearheaded a number of restoration projects to ensure the continued prominence of the Company's premier venues. In January 2014 the legendary Forum arena in Inglewood, California re-opened as the country's largest indoor performance venue focused on music and entertainment. This followed the celebrated three-year, top-to-bottom Transformation of the Madison Square Garden Arena in October 2013. In addition, Mr. Dolan led the restorations of the Company's famed Beacon Theatre in early 2009, and the cherished national landmark, Radio City Music Hall, in 1999. Mr. Dolan has also expanded MSG's entertainment properties to include The Chicago Theatre, which was built in 1921 as one of the country's most opulent motion picture houses.

In addition to its portfolio of landmark venues, MSG owns and operates professional sports teams, the New York Knicks, Rangers and Liberty, as well as MSG Entertainment and its entertainment properties, including the Radio City Christmas Spectacular and New York Spectacular, both featuring the legendary Rockettes. Mr. Dolan has also directed the company's involvement in strategic ventures that strengthen the company's position and enable new opportunities for growth, including Azoff MSG Entertainment and Tribeca Enterprises.

Mr. Dolan has led MSG's response to local and national tragedies. He played a principal role in organizing several extraordinary benefit concerts, including "12-12-12," which raised more than $50 million for the victims of Hurricane Sandy; "The Concert For New York City," which generated more than $35 million in aid for 9/11 victims and heroes; and "From The Big Apple to The Big Easy," which raised nearly $9 million for Hurricane Katrina relief. Mr. Dolan also supports both MSG's and MSG Networks Inc.'s ongoing commitment to the community, particularly through the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit charity that works with both companies to help children throughout the New York metropolitan area.

In addition to his oversight of MSG, Mr. Dolan also serves as executive chairman of MSG Networks Inc., which became a standalone media company following the 2015 spin-off of The Madison Square Garden Company. MSG Networks Inc. is comprised of MSG Network and MSG+, which collectively telecast approximately 700 live professional sporting events, as well as college football and college basketball from top conferences, and a full schedule of critically-acclaimed original programming.

Mr. Dolan is also chief executive officer of Cablevision Systems Corporation, which served as MSG's parent company until February 2010, when MSG became a standalone, public company. Mr. Dolan oversees Cablevision's comprehensive portfolio of advanced Optimum-branded telecommunications products, including its digital cable television, digital voice and high-speed Internet and digital voice services, as well as Optimum WiFi, the nation's most robust wireless Internet network. Also under his purview, and serving the New York tri-state area, are Cablevision's local media and programming properties, which include News 12 Networks and Newsday Media Group, featuring Long Island's leading daily newspaper, Newsday.

Prior to assuming his present posts, Mr. Dolan was chief executive officer of Rainbow Media Holdings, the former Cablevision programming subsidiary that became a separate, public company named AMC Networks Inc. in June 2011. Mr. Dolan began his career with Cablevision in the 1970s and held a variety of executive positions before overseeing Rainbow Media.

Mr. Dolan serves on the board of directors for The Madison Square Garden Company, MSG Networks Inc. and AMC Networks Inc., and is a member of Cablevision's board of directors and its executive committee. He is also on the board of The Lustgarten Foundation, an organization he helped found in 1998, which today is the nation's largest private supporter of pancreatic cancer research. In addition, he sits on the boards of Tribeca Enterprises and C-SPAN.

David O'Connor

President and Chief Executive Officer, The Madison Square Garden Company

David O'Connor is president and chief executive officer of The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG). In this role, he is responsible for the Company's overall strategic vision, and for the advancement of its sports and entertainment businesses. Mr. O'Connor leads the Company's efforts to identify new initiatives that enhance MSG's existing brands and represent new opportunities for growth, including the formation of new strategic alliances and transactions.

The Company's signature assets consist of some of the nation's most dynamic and powerful sports and entertainment brands. This diverse collection of properties includes a portfolio of iconic venues: New York's Madison Square Garden, The Theater at Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall and Beacon Theatre; the Forum in Inglewood, CA; The Chicago Theatre; and the Wang Theatre in Boston. In addition, MSG owns and operates professional sports teams, the New York Knicks, Rangers and Liberty; and entertainment properties, including the Radio City Christmas Spectacular and New York Spectacular, both featuring the legendary Rockettes; and is part of strategic partnerships, including Azoff MSG Entertainment and Tribeca Enterprises.

Before joining MSG, Mr. O'Connor spent more than 30 years at CAA, serving as managing partner of the world-wide entertainment and sports agency for the past 20 years. He began his career at CAA in 1983 in the mailroom and was soon promoted to agent in the Motion Picture department. In 1995, Mr. O'Connor took over day-to-day management and ownership of the agency along with his partners, helping to expand the agency's operations and services around the globe, while maintaining the company's reputation as a trusted agency. In 1996, Mr. O'Connor and his partners broke new ground in the entertainment industry with the creation of the CAA Foundation, which involves the entertainment community and CAA clients in philanthropy and engages organizations to lend their support to a variety of philanthropic programs. This was followed in 2006 by the launch of CAA Sports, which today represents more than 1,000 of the world's top athletes, coaches and broadcasters, along with many of the biggest brands and properties in sports worldwide, including The Madison Square Garden Company.

In 2008, Mr. O'Connor also co-founded and established Evolution Media Capital (EMC), a CAA affiliate that provides investment banking and advisory, asset management, industry research, and capital-raising services to the media and sports industries. And in 2012, Mr. O'Connor was instrumental in the creation of CAA Eleven, a dedicated CAA subsidiary that manages the media, sponsorship, and licensing rights for all National Team Football in Europe governed by UEFA (Union of European Football Associations).

Mr. O'Connor is married to Lona Williams and has two children, Lucy and Angus.

Phil Jackson

President

The author of a championship legacy unmatched in the annals of pro basketball, Hall of Famer Phil Jackson was entrusted with the future of one of the game's cornerstone franchises - and his original NBA home - when he was named president of the New York Knickerbockers on Mar. 18, 2014.

Jackson, the owner of a staggering 13 NBA Championship rings - two as a player with the Knicks, and a record-shattering 11 as head coach of the Bulls and Lakers - is currently in his second full season as president of the Knicks, marking his first front office leadership position and a return to the place where he first started writing NBA history nearly five decades ago.

"I've had a great feel for the process of free agency and the anticipation of how to build a team," says Jackson, 70. "I think the orientation in the last year has been very good for me as far as dealing with agents, being with the people around the players, the players themselves, and the new kind of attempt to build teams in the NBA that's kind of a new mode of operations."

"We feel really good about our summer, how we approached the Draft and free agency," adds Jackson. "What we're happy about is that we have a group of guys who seem to want to work together, that seem to want to play together. We haven't had to encourage guys to come work out at the training facility this summer, they seem to respond very well to working together and with each other. We feel like we have returning veterans who want to work and play and be together, we brought back guys who worked well in the system."

Jackson, a member of the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's Class of 2007, is in charge of all basketball decisions for the Knicks. He joined the Knicks following a 20-year head coaching career over which he amassed a 1,155-485 (.704) career regular season mark. His .704 career winning percentage is the highest for any head coach in League history (minimum 400 games), while his 1,155 regular season wins rank fifth on the all-time NBA list.

En route to winning an all-time NBA record 11 championships as a head coach (breaking Red Auerbach's old mark of nine), Jackson compiled a career Playoff mark of 229-104 (.688). He is the all-time NBA Playoff leader in wins (229), overall games coached (333) and winning percentage (.688, minimum 25 games).

Jackson served as head coach of the Chicago Bulls for nine seasons (1989-90 through 1997-98), leading the Bulls to six NBA titles - in 1991, 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997 and 1998 - as well as to an all-time NBA record 72 wins in 1995-96. He then spent 11 seasons with the Los Angeles Lakers (1999-2000 through 2003-04, 2005-06 through 2010-11) and piloted the Lakers to the NBA summit five times - in 2000, 2001, 2002, 2009 and 2010. Over a post-season span from 1996-2003, Jackson led his teams to a record 25 consecutive series victories, and he is the only coach in NBA history to win as many as three consecutive titles on three separate occasions.

As part of the NBA's Golden Anniversary celebration in 1996-97, Phil was named one of the 10 Greatest Coaches in NBA History. He earned NBA Coach of the Year honors in 1995-96 in the wake of Chicago's record-breaking 72-10 season. Jackson is the all-time winningest coach in both Bulls (545) and Lakers (610) franchise history.

Phil logged a total of 25 years as an NBA coach, with five additional seasons as an assistant coach with the New Jersey Nets (1978-79 through 1980-81) and Bulls (1987-88 through 1988-89). He also served for five seasons as head coach of the CBA's Albany Patroons, winning the League title in 1984.

Decades before he recorded his first coaching win, Jackson's NBA journey began with the Knicks, which made his return to the Big Apple all the more appropriate and symbolic.

"There's a real decided feel about coming back to New York and the Knicks," he says. "It's the team I first started playing pro basketball with and had a successful career with a team that was highly successful under a coach who was a fan favorite and a team that was favored in the New York area."

Phil had a 12-year NBA playing career over which he averaged 6.7 points and 4.3 rebounds over 807 games. He played ten seasons with the Knicks (1967-68 through 1968-69; 1970-71 through 1977-78) and two with the Nets (1978-79 through 1979-80), during which he also served as an assistant coach.

President

Originally drafted by the Knicks in the second round (17tth overall) of the 1967 NBA Draft, Jackson earned NBA All-Rookie Team honors in 1967-68 for a New York squad that featured two other rookies he would eventually join in Springfield - Walt Frazier and Bill Bradley. A coaching protégée of the late Red Holzman, Phil was sidelined for the entire 1969-70 championship season due to a back injury, but would play a key role on the 1972-73 championship squad with 8.1 ppg. The following season, 1973-74, he averaged a career-high 11.1 points while playing in all 82 games.

Nicknamed "Action Jackson" (after the popular children's toy) by future MSG announcer Kenny Albert and master of the defensive "Windmill Effect" maneuver, Phil scored 4,989 points (6.8 ppg) in 732 career games as a Knick. He ranks fifth on the all-time Knicks career list in games played (trailing only Patrick Ewing, Frazier, Bradley and Carl Braun) and 29th in total points.

Jackson was a two-time All-American at the University of North Dakota under head coach Bill Fitch. Some four decades later, in 2008, he was presented with an honorary Doctorate of Letters by his alma mater.

Born on Sep. 17, 1945 in Deer Lodge, MT, Phil is the author of seven books, including his latest, Eleven Rings: The Soul of Success (Penguin, 2013). His first book, Take it All! (Macmillan, 1970), was a photographic look at the Knicks' 1970 title drive co-authored with legendary Garden photographer George Kalinsky.

Jackson is the father of five grown children.

Steve Mills

General Manager

Steve Mills was named general manager of the Knickerbockers on Mar. 18, 2014. He had returned to The Madison Square Garden Company on Sep. 26, 2013.

A 30-plus-year veteran of the sports world, Mills' career has included 16 years with the National Basketball Association, where his talents led to a notable ascent from account executive to senior vice president of basketball and player development. This was followed by 10 years at The Madison Square Garden Company, where Mills had a wide range of responsibilities that included overseeing business and basketball operations for the Knicks and Liberty, along with business operations for the Rangers and for all other sports-related activities at The Garden.

Now, in his second tenure at The Garden, he joins team President Phil Jackson and Head Coach Derek Fisher as a top-level management team charged with the responsibility of restoring the Knicks to elite status.

"I think we had an opportunity to get to know each other very well through a very difficult season, but it helped us solidify the things we think are important for our team to be successful," says Mills. "It gave us a great idea of the kinds of players we wanted to build a successful team, and allowed us to really focus on that and work on the process together. This summer, the three of us spent a lot of time together and talked about what is important to build a successful team, and then start to move forward on that process."

Mills' decade-long career at The Madison Square Garden Company included his role as president of MSG Sports, during which he oversaw all business operations, including marketing and community relations, for the company's three professional sports teams and Sports Properties, which included college basketball, boxing, and track and field. Steve originally joined the Knicks as executive vice president of franchise operations in September 1999 and became president of sports teams operations for Madison Square Garden in 2001.

In his current role, working alongside a Hall of Famer in Jackson provides Mills with a unique perspective.

"It's an opportunity to work with someone who obviously has an incredible basketball resume, but also is just a good person as well," says Mills. "You have the opportunity to share concepts and ideas about basketball and bounce ideas off him. To be able to do that every day has just been a fantastic growth opportunity for me."

Prior to his move to The Garden, Mills played an integral role in the development of the National Basketball Association, where he held several positions with increasing responsibility, including his last role as senior vice president, basketball and player development. His responsibilities included managing the league's relationships with all domestic and international basketball organizations, including the NCAA and USA Basketball, as well as overseeing the NBA's developmental programs and player initiatives during one of the most critical periods in league history. Mills also played a key role in the creation of the Women's National Basketball Association and served on the team responsible for the negotiation of the NBA's Collective Bargaining Agreement. Mills started his career with the NBA in 1983 as an account executive in the corporate sponsorship department of NBA Properties.

Before returning to MSG, Mills most recently served as partner and CEO of Athletes & Entertainers Wealth Management Group, LLC, a company he created in 2010 that links sports and entertainment stars with investment and management leaders to create new business opportunities.

An accomplished collegiate basketball player, Mills started three seasons at guard for Hall of Fame Coach Pete Carril at Princeton University, where he helped lead the Tigers to two Ivy League first place finishes, including the league title and an NCAA berth in 1981. He also played professionally for one season in South America in 1981.

Mills earned a degree in sociology from Princeton in 1981, and has served on the Board of Trustees for the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and the Board of Directors for USA Basketball. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Princeton Varsity Club and on the Advisory Board for Manhattan's Hospital for Special Surgery. Steve and his wife Beverly have two daughters.

Allan Houston

Assistant General Manager

Firmly established in his post-playing career, Allan Houston is currently in his eighth season as a member of the Knicks' front office and his sixth year as assistant general manager, following two years as assistant to the president, basketball operations. He oversees all operations of New York's D-League affiliate, the Westchester Knicks, and assists team president Phil Jackson and general manager Steve Mills.

"It was great working with Phil (last year) and experiencing his leadership role both on and off the court," says Houston, 44, who officially joined the Knicks front office on Nov. 7, 2008. "On the court, he commands so much respect because of his knowledge and his communication style. The thing I enjoy, and I think I speak for all of us, is just hearing him talk about his life and history, just his sharing his general wisdom. You hear so much about his books and his knowledge, so for me, it's been so good just sitting and listening in on those conversations and understanding how life and basketball run parallel."

Houston takes particular pride in the Westchester Knicks, New York's owned-and-operated affiliate which played its inaugural NBA D-League season in 2014-15 in nearby White Plains, providing ready access to the Knicks of the future for both team executives and fans.

"There were a lot of day-to-day things - operations, teaching and training experiences - that took place right in our own facility, with players that our coaches and staff are connecting with each day," says Houston about the Westchester Knicks. "That made it a better experience. I think the biggest factor still goes back to the system, back to the synergy with which Phil and Derek and the staff are implementing a certain way to play, a certain mindset that leads to winning. When you implement those things from the ground up, from Day One, your development system follows suit and it allows for much more synergy with what you're teaching every player, especially your younger players who are still learning how they're going to contribute."

A two-time NBA All-Star (in 2000 and 2001), Houston's front office career comes on the heels of a stellar 12-year playing tenure over which he averaged 17.3 points, including two 20-plus scoring seasons with the Knicks.

After three years in Detroit, Allan spent nine standout seasons (1996-97 through 2004-05) with the Knicks. He is fourth on the all-time Knicks career scoring list with 11,165 points, trailing only Hall of Famers Patrick Ewing (23,665), Walt Frazier (14,617) and Willis Reed (12,183). Houston is also second among all-time Knicks in three-point field goals (921, to John Starks' 982), third in free throw percentage (.872), and sixth in minutes (21,724).

A key member of the Knicks' 1999 Eastern Conference Championship team, Allan authored perhaps the single most-famous shot in franchise history, his unforgettable running one-hander with :00.8 left to give New York a series-clinching 78-77 win in Game Five of the first Playoff round at Miami (May 16, 1999). Houston scored a career-high 53 points at Los Angeles against the Lakers on Feb. 16, 2003.

Allan announced his retirement on Oct. 17, 2005, although he attempted comebacks (both injury-shortened) during training camp in 2007 and 2008. In 2011, he was honored as a Knicks Legend for the period from 2000-2010, and saw his No. 20 retired by the University of Tennessee. Allan was a key member of the gold medal-winning U.S. squad at the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney.

Houston's longstanding community efforts earned him recognition for six straight years (2000 through 2005) as one of The Sporting News' "Good Guys in Sports." He currently oversees the Allan Houston Legacy Foundation, which was founded in 2001 and has served thousands of families nationwide through original programs in fatherhood and entrepreneurship. The programs include the annual "Father Knows Best" Basketball Retreat, strategic partnerships, coaching clinics, fatherhood and family programs, the FISLL (Faith, Integrity, Sacrifice, Leadership and Legacy) education curriculum, and the Allan Houston Business Education and Development Program. Allan, who is heavily involved in the Garden of Dreams Foundation, was honored by the New York Press Photographers Association with its 1999 "Good Guy" award and by the Obama Administration with the President's Council on Service and Engagement Award in 2011. Houston made his directorial debut in the 2015 documentary "Legacy of My Father", which explores celebrity fatherhood and co-stars Clippers coach Doc Rivers and film director Ron Howard.

"One thing I learned from my parents is that whatever you do, you have to have a vision and be humble, and treat everything with excellence," says Allan of his far-reaching career. "I just want to be the best I can at whatever I'm doing, and they always taught me to be a better person, more than anything. Life is built on relationships and dealing with people. One thing we as coaches talk about is that players who are listeners and are teachable and coachable, will always progress. Being a coach's son, I've always tried to take that approach; that sometimes you've just got to be quiet and watch and learn. I've been very, very blessed."

Born on Apr. 20, 1971 in Louisville, Allan and his wife Tamara are proud parents of seven children: daughter Remie (16; born on Jun. 12, 1999, one day after Allan's 32-point heroics in NY's Eastern Conference-clinching Game Six win over Indiana), sons Allan III (14) and Asher (3), and daughters Rowan (11), Jade (8), Jodi Jean (7) and Truth Grace (5). A graduate of the University of Tennessee (BA, African-American Studies), Allan played collegiately for his father Wade, then the Vols' head coach. Allan's father and mother, Wade and Alice, are partners in Louisville-based HJI Inc., a family-based transportation and logistics company.

Derek Fisher

Head Coach

For Derek Fisher, it was a whirlwind transformation that seemingly played out in the twinkling of an eye. From a storied playing career studded with five NBA Championship rings, he was suddenly entrusted with the day-to-day responsibility of one of the NBA's charter franchises in the world's greatest basketball city.

Now, one year later, the transition period is over and the job description reads, fully and completely, head coach, New York Knickerbockers.

"Last year was definitely very fast-paced in terms of the transition from player to coach," says Fisher. "I learned that, regardless of your basketball experience, it's different putting it out as a player compared to, then, trying to coach and teach people to put it out on the floor. I learned that it was as challenging as it appeared to be, I wasn't really surprised by that. But I also realized that I do have a wide set of skills that fit the job quite well, so I feel really confident about stepping into my second year with a greater feel and understanding for knowing how to coach as opposed to leading as a player."

Fisher, 41, was named the 26th head coach in Knicks franchise history on Jun. 10, 2014, just 10 days after his final game as an active player. In his first season at the helm, he led the Knicks to a 17-65 (.207) mark. Fisher recorded his first victory as an NBA head coach on Oct. 30, 2014, a stunning 95-90 win over the eventual Eastern Conference Champion Cleveland Cavaliers. Later, Fisher's Knicks would record a 2-0 season sweep of Derek's old team, the Los Angeles Lakers...ironically, the only season sweep notched by New York in 2014-15.

Fisher's first NBA coaching assignment reunited him with Knicks team president Phil Jackson, who was Derek's coach for the bulk of his playing career and under whose guidance the Lakers (and Fisher) won five NBA titles during the first decade of the 2000s. Throughout that period, Fisher's unmatched leadership qualities - both on the court and in the locker room - were apparent on a nightly basis.

"Derek is a detail-oriented person who, as a player, was willing to sacrifice his own game for the betterment of the team," says Jackson. "Yet, he was willing to stand up, take responsibility in end-of-game situations. He had a good voice as a team leader, and I think all those things related well to the job that he's now attempting to do. I felt that because he played the game for 25 years, that he has a great feel for it as far as the aspect of how to play and what it takes to play. That goes a long way with NBA players. They respect someone who's been on the battlefield with them, and who knows what they're going through."

"For me, any season that doesn't end in winning a championship feels like last season did," says Fisher. "I've been on teams that have won a lot of games, made it to the NBA Finals and lost, and I felt just as empty and lost in trying to think of how did it happen and why did it happen, as I did last year. If you don't win a championship, it's back to the drawing board.

"For me, I'm really not measuring it in the number of games won, it's more about the process of what we need to do to get better in order to give ourselves a chance to be the best that we can be. For sure, coming off a season where you don't win and don't accomplish your goals, that definitely serves as motivation and serves to help people get better in the future."

Fisher joined the Knicks following a stellar, 18-year playing career over which he averaged 8.3 points per game (10,713 career points) over 1,287 games for five teams. Originally drafted by the Lakers out of Arkansas-Little Rock in the first round (24th overall) of the 1996 NBA Draft, he spent 13 seasons in Los Angeles and was a key member of five Phil Jackson-coached NBA Championship teams (2000, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2010).

In garnering his five championship rings, Fisher played in an NBA-record 259 career Playoff games, while his 285 post-season three-point field goals rank fifth on the all-time NBA Playoff list.

Derek's reputation as a clutch post-season performer was crystallized when he authored one of the most memorable shots in recent NBA history; his game-winning, buzzer-beating jumper (off Gary Payton's inbound with :00.4 left) on May 13, 2004, giving the Lakers a stunning 74-73 win at San Antonio in Game Five of the Western Conference Semifinals.

Fisher's 1,287 regular season games played rank 17th on the all-time NBA list. Derek amassed a streak of 537 consecutive games played (ending in 2012), played in 82 games in nine different seasons and appeared in 81 contests during his final season (2013-14 with Oklahoma City). His 1,248 career three-point field goals rank 40th on the all-time NBA list.

Born on Aug. 9, 1974 in Little Rock, AR, Fisher served as president of the National Basketball Players Association from 2006-13 and played a pivotal role in ending the 2011 NBA lockout. He won the NBA Community Assist Award for April 2005 after making a $700,000 donation to his alma mater for an auxiliary gym (Fisher Gym) at Arkansas-Little Rock's Stephens Center and to establish Fisher Fellows, a mentoring program for neighborhood middle school students. Derek's brother Duane Washington played in the NBA in 1987-88 (New Jersey) and 1992-92 (Clippers).

Derek and his family are tireless workers in the fight against retinoblastoma.

Kurt Rambis

Associate Head Coach

In the latest entry to a blue collar-tinged resume that glitters with eight championship rings, Kurt Rambis in his second season as the first associate head coach in Knickerbockers history.

"We learned a lot about ourselves (last year) and how we work as a coaching staff," says Rambis, who joined the Knicks -- his first NBA team more than three decades ago - on Jul. 7, 2014. "We also learned about what we want to do as coaches moving forward and the type of players we'd like to have on our team, and the adjustments we'd like to make on our roster. Even though, record-wise, it was not a productive year, I think internally, from the standpoint of management and the staff, it was a good year for us to kind of supplant the type of environment and culture that we would like to establish here, and how we would like to do things in a professional manner."

Currently in his 18th season as an NBA coach, Rambis was a fixture with the Los Angeles Lakers during both the Showtime era of the 1980s and the championship years of the early 2000s. Kurt owns a total of eight NBA Championship rings, all as a Laker (four as a player, four as a coach/executive). He joined the Knicks after spending the 2013-14 season as a Lakers assistant coach under Mike D'Antoni.

"We've made some great strides in our draft this year, we've made some great strides in free agent moves," says Kurt, 57. "We're very positive, even though last year was a very difficult year, difficult for everybody. The mentality I'd like everybody to have is that last year was Year Zero. It wasn't even Year One. It was Year Zero. This is Year One now, and we're all moving forward from here."

Kurt logged a total of 14 seasons as a Lakers assistant coach: from 1994-95 through 1998-99, from 2001-02 through 2008-09, and again in 2013-14. He also served as Lakers head coach for the second half of the 1998-99 season (winning his first nine games and leading the Forum Blue and Gold to a 24-13 mark and a trip to the Western Conference Semis), as advisor to the president in 1999-2000 and as assistant general manager in 2000-01. During his coaching/executive career with the Lakers, the team won four championships under head coach Phil Jackson (2000, 2001, 2002, 2009), with current Knicks headmaster Derek Fisher playing a vital role on each squad.

"With his experience and being on winning teams as a player and coach, Kurt was really able to bring the mentality and the mindset of not accepting losing," says Fisher. "He continues to ask questions and push everybody, in order to find ways to make people get better. Just his mentality and the way Kurt approaches winning is something that was positive for us."

"That's what I feel internally," adds Kurt. "I hate to lose, it's just disgusting to me. I don't see myself in that environment and I try to do everything and anything I can to turn that around and put W's up on the board."

In addition to his long-standing Laker tenure, Rambis also served for two seasons (2009-10 through 2010-11) as head coach of the Minnesota Timberwolves. He owns an overall NBA head coaching mark of 56-145 (.279).

A player who epitomized the blue collar work ethic, Rambis had a 14-year NBA career (1981-82 through 1994-95) over which he averaged 5.2 points and 5.6 rebounds over 880 career games. He spent the bulk of his playing career with the Lakers, emerging as a Forum fan favorite and a key member of four NBA Championship teams (1982, 1985, 1987, 1988). He ranks fourth on the all-time NBA Playoff list with a .574 career post-season field goal percentage (minimum 150 FGM), and fifth on the all-time Lakers list in career FG pct. (.550). Kurt's final season as a player was 1994-95, when he began the year as a special assistant coach and wound up appearing in 26 games in an emergency role as the Lakers were hit with the wave of injuries.

During his NBA career, Rambis has played or coached under some of the greatest figures in the game's history, including Jackson, Pat Riley, Del Harris, Dick Harter, Cotton Fitzsimmons, Paul Westphal and - in his brief time in New York - Red Holzman.

Rambis' NBA journey began when the Knicks selected him in the third round (58th overall) of the 1980 NBA Draft. Although he came to training camp and later returned to the Knicks via a 10-day contract in January 1981, he never appeared in a regular season game for New York, instead playing professionally in Greece during the 1980-81 season.

"I had an opportunity in [1980] training camp to play overseas in Greece," remembers Kurt. "I went down the Knicks roster. It's an 11-man roster at that time, and I'm counting up 13 guaranteed contracts and I'm not one of them. So I go and talk to Red before the morning practice session, and I explained to him that I had this opportunity to go overseas and play in Greece...Red said, 'No, no, no. You're doing a great job. We love everything you're doing.' He was a class act, very much so.

"So I come back for the evening session thinking everything's going to be status quo. Red pulls me into his little office and says, 'Kurt, we've decided to let you take advantage of that other opportunity.' And the funny part of the story is that he said, `But if you don't mind, can you stick around for the evening session and practice?' I said yeah, I had nothing else to do."

Born on Feb. 25, 1958 in Terre Haute, IN, Rambis earned a B.S. degree in psychology from Santa Clara, where he became the school's all-time leading scorer (1,736 points, since broken). In addition to his playing and coaching career, Kurt has served as a hoop analyst for ESPN, Fox Sports West and, in 2012-13, for the newly-formed Time Warner Cable SportsNet.

Kurt and his wife Linda make their home in Manhattan Beach, CA, and have three adult children: Jesse (29), Jordan (28) and Ali (23).

For one of the NBA's veteran and most respected coaches, Jim Cleamons is enjoying a long-awaited homecoming, as he spent two-and-a-half seasons in a Knicks uniform in the late '70s. Three-plus decades and nine coaching championships later, he hasn't lost his taste for the Big Apple.

"You'd have to be from Mars to not want to play or coach in New York City," says Jim, currently in his 24th season as an NBA coach. "It is the Mecca of Basketball, and you'd have to have a pretty low threshold of emotion if you didn't get enthusiastic about the opportunities you get just by being associated with a pro basketball franchise in New York City. When you think of the Knicks and Madison Square Garden, those are the type of emotions that come to my mind. As a player and also as a coach, you realize how much you want to be there and be a part of it. Having been a player with the Knicks and now as an assistant coach, these same emotions exist. This is what makes it real. If you're a competitor, if you enjoy the spirit of competition, if you like challenges, it doesn't get any better than that."

Author of a championship legacy as both player and coach, Jim is in his second season on the Knickerbockers staff, joining New York as an assistant coach on Sep. 3, 2014. Cleamons, who owns a total of 10 NBA Championship rings (nine as a coach, one as a player), joined the Knicks from the Milwaukee Bucks, for whom he served as an assistant coach in 2013-14.

Jim's NBA coaching career began with seven seasons as an assistant with the Chicago Bulls (1989-90 through 1995-96). He served for 10 years (in two different stints) with the Los Angeles Lakers, from 1999-2000 through 2003-04, and again from 2006-07 through 2010-11. He also spent two seasons with the then-New Orleans Hornets (2004-05 through 2005-06) as well as one (2013-14) with the Bucks.

As part of Phil Jackson-led coaching staffs, Cleamons was a member of four NBA Championship teams with the Bulls (1991, 1992, 1993 and 1996) and five with the Lakers (2000, 2001, 2002, 2009 and 2010).

"Jim reminds everybody that, although many things have changed, there are a lot of things that remain the same about the game," says Head Coach Derek Fisher, who was coached by Cleamons as a Laker. "It still comes back to good, old-fashioned hard work and guys being willing to play together on the offensive end, sharing the ball; and also taking pride in getting stops on the defensive end. He reminds all us young guys that no matter how sophisticated we try to make the game, it's still a pretty simple game. It's good to get those messages, and that's what Jim is able to do for us."

Moving past last year's difficult season into a bright future is also on Cleamons' Knicks agenda.

"It's difficult when you give it your all and still come up short," says Cleamons, 66. "I think that's a measuring stick of the great ones. The great ones find a way, when they come up short, to redefine themselves the next night. There's something in their competitive nature where they say, `I can do better, and tonight I can and I will.' Those are the things that we have to find within ourselves moving forward. Who are the really great competitors on our team, and who can this franchise depend on, moving forward, to take their game to the next level? That's the challenge I'm looking forward to having this year."

In addition to his career as an assistant coach, Cleamons served for a season-and-a-half as head coach of the Dallas Mavericks (1996-97 to 1997-98), and has a career NBA head coaching mark of 28-70 (.286).

Prior to joining the Bucks in 2013, Cleamons had served for one season as a head coach in the Chinese Basketball Association. He began his coaching career with assistant coaching stints at Furman (1982-83), and at his alma mater, The Ohio State University (1983-84 through 1986-87), and as head coach for two seasons at Youngstown State (1987-88 through 1988-89). In 1998-99, he coached the Chicago Condors of the now-defunct women's American Basketball League.

The 13th overall pick in the 1971 NBA Draft, Jim enjoyed a nine-year playing career (1971-72 through 1979-80) over which he averaged 8.3 ppg in 652 games. As a rookie, he was a member of the fabled 1972 NBA Champion Lakers squad that won a League record 33 straight games under Hall of Famer Bill Sharman. He then played five seasons in Cleveland, averaging a career-high 12.2 points and earning NBA All-Defensive second team honors for the 1975-76 "Miracle of Richfield" squad that won the Central Division title under Bill Fitch. Cleamons authored one of the signature moments in Cavaliers history when his buzzer-beating layup off a Bingo Smith miss gave the Cavs a 92-91 win over Washington in Game Five of the East Semis (Apr. 22, 1976), en route to Cleveland's seven-game series win.

Cleamons signed with New York as a free agent on Oct. 10, 1977, with the Knicks sending future Hall of Famer Walt Frazier to the Cavs as compensation. He played a two-and-a-half seasons (180 games) with the Knicks, averaging 6.5 points for the 1977-78 squad that included Phil Jackson and earned a Playoff berth under Head Coach Willis Reed. On Oct. 18, 1979 at Detroit - the fourth game of the season - he earned an additional honor by becoming the first Knick ever to record a three-point field goal in regular season play.

"I got the honor of playing in New York, and the team that we had - and I'll tell anyone to this day - was one of the most talented teams in the League, in 1977-78," he remembers. "It was a good team, but we didn't win. I have very good memories of that team, but they aren't quite what I'd like them to be because we didn't live up to the billing."

Born on Sep. 13, 1949 in Lincolnton, NC, Jim averaged 18.5 ppg over three seasons at Ohio State, earning a degree in education. He was the captain of the 1971 squad and earned Academic All-Big Ten honors in 1969-70. A member of the Ohio Basketball Hall of Fame (2008) and the Greater Columbus Basketball Legends Hall of Fame (2013), Cleamons and his wife Cheryl are proud parents of daughters Imani and Rose.

Rasheed Hazzard

Assistant Coach

A proud link in a storied basketball legacy, Rasheed Hazzard is in his second season with the Knickerbockers, having joined the organization as an assistant coach on Sep. 3, 2014 following a tenure with the Los Angeles Lakers during which he was a part of two NBA Championship teams.

"The level of responsibility that comes with the position that Derek blessed me with was definitely something new," says Hazzard, 39, of his Big Apple initiation. "It wasn't so much an adjustment; it took a lot of attention to detail and it was very time-consuming, but I enjoyed it more than anything I've ever done. It's a great opportunity to grow in this business, especially under a person like Coach Fisher, who sets the bar so high with his standard for excellence and all the things he's done in basketball and life. We see what we're building and the culture we're developing, and we're excited about what the future holds."

The 2015-16 season marks Rasheed's second year as an NBA assistant coach, but his basketball resume extends far beyond. Prior to joining the Knicks, Hazzard served for five seasons (2006-07 through 2010-11) in a variety of capacities for the Lakers, beginning as a part-time scout for the Lakers and part-time assistant coach for the D-League Los Angeles D-Fenders. Eventually working his way to fulltime status both as a Lakers scout and assistant coach for the D-Fenders, Hazzard was part of the Lakers staff during their back-to-back NBA Championship years of 2009 and 2010.

"When I was with the Lakers, I was kind of a jack-of-all-trades," says Rasheed. "I filled in where I needed to. Here, my role is more focused, so that allows me to kind of make it my own and try to excel at what Coach Fisher is asking me to do in helping to build this culture...Now, you're directly affecting the outcome of games, with the information you provide and the work you do with players. That's why I'm in this business; I love the pressure and I love to win."

Prior to joining the Lakers, Rasheed served for five seasons as head basketball coach at his alma mater, Venice (CA) HS, and one season as an assistant coach at the University of Portland (OR).

Rasheed is the son of the late Walt Hazzard, a UCLA legend who averaged 12.6 points during a 10-year NBA career primarily with the Lakers and Hawks. Following his playing career - highlighted by nine points in the 1968 NBA All-Star Game at the Old Garden - Walt was a longtime scout and consultant for the Lakers, even after suffering a debilitating stroke in 1996. A product of Philadelphia's legendary Overbrook HS, Walt will be inducted into the Philadelphia Sports Hall of Fame in November 2015.

The basketball bond between father and son was brilliantly illustrated for Rasheed one night late last season.

"We were in Philadelphia to play the Sixers, and an old friend of my dad, [longtime Sixers advisor] Sonny Hill, was at the game," he recalled. "I call him Uncle Sonny because he's been in my life forever. I was out doing my workouts with the guys, and Sonny's just sitting there with a smile on his face. After I was done I walked over to him, and Sonny had tears in his eyes and he said, `I swear, I'm sitting here and it's like I'm watching your father all over again.' That was the moment when I realized that my dad would be proud of what I've done, I know he's smiling and happy. This is where we belong...in this game, helping people and trying to win championships. That's what he was about.

"My dad set the standard. He's the one that established the Hazzard name. But if he was here right now, he would tell you that none of this would have been possible without my mom, Jaleesa Hazzard. She's the rock, she's the backbone, she pushes us all to be great men."

A 1998 graduate of George Washington University, Rasheed played four seasons at GW under head coach Mike Jarvis. Single, he is a native of Los Angeles. Since 2011, Rasheed and his brothers have overseen the Los Angeles-based non-profit Walt Hazzard Hoop School, which engages inner-city youth in life lessons as well as basketball.

Rasheed is the youngest of four brothers: Yakub, a vice president at NBCUniversal; Jalal, a longtime executive director for non-profit organizations and manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers' RBI Program; and Khalil, a three-time Grammy winner known professionally as DJ Khalil. Rasheed also has two nephews currently playing Division I ball: Jacob at Arizona and Max at UC-Irvine.

Brian Keefe

Assistant Coach

Currently in his 11th NBA season, Brian Keefe brings a strong coaching pedigree and a wealth of experience to his second year on the Knicks staff. He joined the Knickerbockers as an assistant coach on September 3, 2014 and immediately took to the world's greatest basketball city.

"The support from the community and the fans was there every night," says Keefe. "It was something you could really appreciate as a coach, that the fans appreciated the effort. Even though our record wasn't what they would have liked, they appreciated that our team played hard. We had some tough moments last year, but we had a resilient group that was able to keep plugging along even when it was very tough."

The 2015-16 season marks Keefe's seventh campaign as an NBA assistant coach. Brian arrived in New York after spending seven years with the Oklahoma City Thunder. After two seasons as player development coach (including the Thunder's final season in Seattle), he served for five years (2009-10 through 2013-14) as an assistant coach, and was a member of the Thunder's staff during Oklahoma City's march to the 2012 Western Conference Championship. During his final three years with the Thunder, Keefe coached current Knicks headmaster Derek Fisher.

Prior to joining the Thunder, Keefe served for two seasons (2005-06 through 2006-07) as assistant video coordinator for the San Antonio Spurs, earning an NBA Championship ring following the Spurs' title run in 2007.

In a relatively short time, Keefe has built an impressive coaching resume, serving under the likes of the Spurs' Gregg Popovich, then under P.J. Carlesimo and Scott Brooks in Oklahoma City, and now Derek Fisher in New York.

"I've been very blessed, first of all starting in college with Max Good, who was very successful at Bryant," says Keefe. "I learned a ton from him. And then getting the chance to be with the San Antonio Spurs, one of the most respected organizations in basketball and getting a chance to be there and learn there every day. And then being with Coach Brooks, with his character and ability to teach and allowing us coaches to grow along with him, it's something I'm very thankful for."

"I've been blessed to be with all these different, unique people. They were all so helpful in my development as a coach. Now with Derek, that just continues for me. I'm learning from him, and he gives us the opportunity to teach the game. Derek's just a continuation of all the people I've been blessed to be around."

Brian's coaching career began in 2000-01 as a graduate assistant at the University of South Florida. He then served for four seasons (2001-02 through 2004-05) as an assistant coach at Bryant University in Rhode Island, where one of his players was Josh Longstaff, who would later join him on the staffs of the Thunder and, ultimately, the Knicks.

"I think it's just about the daily work and the consistency of that, bringing that approach and mindset every day," says Keefe. "If you handle your business in the proper fashion every day, that's the thing I've learned from the places I've been. There's a way to get there, but you can't rush it and you've got to do it daily. It's a daily process and we're not going to skip any steps."

Keefe is a 1999 graduate of the University of Nevada-Las Vegas with a degree in sociology. He played four years collegiately: two at Cal-Irvine and two at UNLV, serving as team captain at both schools. He was named to the All-Big West Second Team in 1996 while at Cal-Irvine.

A native of Winchester, MA, Brian and his wife Cindy are proud parents of daughters Brooke (3) and Noelle (2).

Joshua Longstaff

Assistant Coach

A youthful veteran of NBA coaching, Josh Longstaff is in his second year on the Knickerbockers' staff. He joined the Knicks as an assistant coach on Sep. 3, 2014, and his first taste of coaching in the Big Apple left him hungry for more.

"It was a fantastic learning experience for me," says Longstaff, 32, of his first year in New York. "I think working for an organization that's so historic and being around a fan base that's so passionate for this team to be great, was a great experience. Obviously the record wasn't what we wanted it to be, but there were a lot of trials, tribulations and challenges. I got to experience a lot in that first year. For me, the knowledge I gained from going through the season was tremendous."

Longstaff joined the Knicks after spending four seasons - 2010-11 through 2013-14 - with the Oklahoma City Thunder. He originally joined the Thunder as player personnel and video coordinator, then spent his final three seasons as video analyst and player development coach. He was a member of the Thunder staff when OKC won the Western Conference Championship in 2012, and coached Knicks headmaster Derek Fisher during Fisher's final three seasons as a player.

In addition to on-the-bench coaching, Josh came to New York with a strong background in the growing field of player development, a category rapidly growing in importance and scope.

"We've kind of coined the phrase, `Player performance' because what we're doing, with the knowledge we've put together, processes and integrates the strength and conditioning and medical staff to the basketball staff, to the mental aspects of playing," explains Josh. "We're trying to develop the whole person, that's how we put it. I think that makes us unique because we're all on the same page. The goal for us is to give the player everything that he needs to perform at his highest level on game night."

Prior to joining the Thunder in 2010, Longstaff spent five years as a high school coach; two seasons as the head coach at Gorham (Maine) High School and three seasons as an assistant coach at Portland High School. The New England product not only personifies a blue collar attitude, but is also keenly aware of how much that same attribute resonates with New Yorkers.

"Here in New York, there's obviously a pressure that comes with it because the fans have an expectation for the Knicks to play a certain way," says Josh. "It's a blue collar, fight-through-adversity type of town that expects their players to play hard every single night. It's such an historic franchise and I think I've really learned that this city wants you to roll your sleeves up, dig in and give it everything you have day in and day out. I think that's the one reason Derek chose me to be on his staff, because I have that type of East Coast attitude. I think I've learned that this city really takes to this approach."

A native of Portland, ME, Longstaff was a four-year letterman at Bryant University in Rhode Island, graduating in 2005 with a degree in marketing. While at Bryant, he was coached by Brian Keefe, whom he later joined on the staff of the Thunder and is now also a member of Fisher's staff with the Knicks. Single, Josh lives in Manhattan.

The Westchester Knicks are the NBA Development League affiliate of the New York Knicks. The NBA D-League is the official minor league of the NBA, providing hardcore basketball fans with access to NBA prospects being groomed to impact the next level through high-level competition and comprehensive training and instruction.

The Knicks tipped-off their inaugural season in November 2014, and play all 24 of their home games at the Westchester County Center in White Plains; only 10 minutes from MSG Training Center in Greenburgh. The regular season runs November through April, with playoffs culminating at the end of April.

On Mar. 10, 2014, the NBA, The Madison Square Garden Company & Westchester County announced the establishment of the 18th franchise in the NBA Development League. After an overwhelming amount of submissions to a team-naming contest, the fans had spoken and on May 14, County Executive Rob Astorino unveiled the logo and team name of the Westchester Knicks. On Jan. 7, 2015, guard Langston Galloway became the franchise's first call-up. On Jan. 30, 2015 New York Knicks forward Cleanthony Early became the first player assigned to Westchester.

"As we go through this process, we have more and more guys taking individual responsibility and accountability for what's going on and how we each can help the team get better. And that is important to building a team and building a culture. I think in the past, there have been issues with more finger-pointing out as opposed to finger-pointing in. We are now having a locker room of guys that are pointing to themselves about how they can help us get better." - Derek Fisher, Nov. 13

"Winning seems like it's so far removed from where we are, but it's really not. It's easy for us to forget that. When you only see the success part of people's journey, you forget about days they experienced before success. Before you get into position of success, you have failed and made mistakes. The ones who are winning and successful still keep their chin up and work through this. Other people give up. We're talking about not giving up and becoming a winner. Even though we're not there now, we will be if we don't give up on the process." - Derek Fisher, Dec. 23

That's the only way to really survive is to just keep finding ways to be impactful, to be effective…I think it's difficult at times when you're down to keep doing that, but I'm just trying to really strongly suggest to the guys that they find ways to do it no matter what." - Derek Fisher, Mar. 10

"It's not the season we wanted. Even this late in the season they're showing up to all the games. We still have packed houses. When the games get close they get loud. That hasn't changed. They've been relentless all year. We have diehard fans. It's been a rough year, but they've been great no matter." - Jason Smith

"Not really surprised. The Knicks are New York's team. I don't think the record each season defines what level of support true Knicks fans will provide. That's what they're doing, every game this season. They've gotten good effort and good energy and players trying their hardest. They've been there to support us. On nights we felt like we haven't, they don't support us as much. We want to have a lot more of those nights as we finish the year, and surely when we look at next season." - Derek Fisher

HISTORY

Ned Irish: The Founding Father

THE CITY GAME. THE CITY'S TEAM.

Seven decades of heroes and heroics. That's the legacy and tradition of the New York Knickerbockers, a charter member of the National Basketball Association and one of the benchmark franchises of American sports.

It is a history that includes six of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History – Patrick Ewing, Willis Reed, Walt Frazier, Dave DeBusschere, Earl Monroe and Jerry Lucas...a tradition that embraces four of the 10 Greatest Coaches in League history, led by the legendary Red Holzman...a legacy written across eight trips to the NBA Finals and two World Championships, with the fabled 1970 team cited as one of the 10 Greatest Teams in League annals.

THE BEGINNING

It all began on Jun. 6, 1946, when Madison Square Garden was granted a charter franchise in the newly-formed Basketball Association of America. The legendary Ned Irish, who would eventually be enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, was the Knicks' founding father and one of the infant circuit's pioneers.

The newly-christened Knickerbockers debuted on Nov. 1, 1946, edging the Toronto Huskies, 68-66 at famed Maple Leaf Gardens. Former Manhattan College mentor Neil Cohalan was the Knicks' first head coach, while Ossie Schectman, Stan Stutz, Jake Weber, Ralph Kaplowitz and Leo Gottlieb made up the inaugural starting lineup.

THIS NEARLY WAS MINE

New York was playoff-bound in each of its first 10 seasons, nine of those under the leadership of Joe Lapchick, the coaching genius whose 326 career wins helped him carve a niche in the Hall of Fame.

The Knicks made three consecutive trips to the NBA Finals, in 1951, 1952 and 1953. But they would be denied the summit all three times: first by Rochester, and then by the dynastic Minneapolis Lakers in 1952 and 1953.

Carl Braun was the club's premier scorer during those early days, averaging 14.1 ppg over a career that spanned 12 seasons and five All-Star selections. Braun's teammates included Harry Gallatin, the ferocious rebounder who still holds the club record of 610 consecutive games played; the great Dick McGuire, who set a playmaking standard by leading the club in assists for seven straight seasons (1950-56), popular Ernie Vandeweghe and pioneer pro Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton. The greatness of the early Knicks has been certified with the enshrinements of Gallatin, Clifton and McGuire into the Hall of Fame, joining Lapchick and Irish.

LEAN YEARS

New York made the playoffs only once in a 10-year span from the late '50s into the '60s, a period in which Iona's Richie Guerin earned a permanent place in Knicks lore - and, in 2013, long-overdue election to the Basketball Hall of Fame - with his sensational scoring and hard-nosed play. A six-time All-Star with New York, Guerin was the first Knick to score 50 points in a game when he poured in 57 on Dec. 11, 1959 against Syracuse, just one of 13 40-point performances during his career. Willie Naulls, Ray Felix, Jumpin' Johnny Green and Ken Sears were also major Knick heroes in those days.

The head coaching assignments during that era were handled by Vince Boryla, Fuzzy Levane, Braun, Eddie Donovan, Gallatin and McGuire.

TAKE IT ALL!

Following a decade in the doldrums, the Knicks franchise would ultimately reach its zenith under William "Red" Holzman, the Hall of Fame coach who took over the reins in late 1967, just prior to the team's move from the venerable Old Garden on 49th Street to the gleaming New Garden above Penn Station. As Holzman assumed the helm, the team's "Golden Era" - which would include four 50+-win seasons, three Eastern Conference Championships and, of course, two NBA titles - was launched.

The Knicks climbed to basketball's pinnacle in 1969-70, riding a club record 18-game winning streak and a 60-22 regular season mark to the team's first NBA World Championship. Captain Willis Reed, the League's MVP, will forever be remembered for stepping onto the Garden court in spite of his severely injured leg, to the deafening roar of a capacity crowd...the impetus for a stirring and decisive seventh game triumph in the Finals against the Los Angeles Lakers. With Reed scoring the Knicks' first two baskets and Walt Frazier adding 36 points and 19 assists, New York nailed down its first NBA title with a 113-99 Game Seven win, forever stamping May 8, 1970 as the ultimate red-letter day in team history.

Along with Reed's contributions, the unprecedented success was keyed by fabled teammates such as Frazier, Bill Bradley, Dave DeBusschere and Dick Barnett, along with "Minutemen" Mike Riordan, Cazzie Russell and Dave Stallworth. Smart drafting and shrewd trades by Holzman and general manager Eddie Donovan - especially the fabled December 1968 acquisition of DeBusschere from Detroit - laid the foundation for success.

Holzman's club led the NBA in team defense five times over a six-year span from 1968-69 to 1973-74. The team captured the citizenry of the world's greatest basketball city, selling out the New Garden 26 times in 1969-70 after recording just six regular season sellouts in 22 seasons at the Old Garden.

Earl "The Pearl" Monroe, a Knicks nemesis during his days with the Baltimore Bullets, joined the Knicks in 1971-72 and teamed with Frazier to form one of the greatest backcourts in NBA history. Also acquired to shore up the front line was perennial All-Star Jerry Lucas.

In 1971-72, despite the season-long absence of Reed due to injury, the Knicks won the Eastern Conference title with Playoff wins over Baltimore and Boston. In 1972-73, Reed returned and a veteran Knick squad gutted its way to its second NBA Championship. They outlasted Boston in a classic Eastern Final series and then beat the Lakers in the Finals, becoming the first team in NBA history to defeat two 60-win teams en route to a title.

In tribute to the championship heroes, the retired numbers of Reed, Bradley, Frazier, Barnett, DeBusschere and Monroe hang from the Garden rafters. Reed, Bradley, Frazier, DeBusschere, Monroe and Lucas have all joined Holzman in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

SLUMP, THEN SURGE

New York was a playoff force for nine straight seasons (1966-67 through 1974-75). But then a period of lean times befell the club as the '80s dawned, despite headline performances by future Hall of Famers Bob McAdoo and Spencer Haywood, along with Ray Williams and Micheal Ray Richardson. Holzman and Reed presided as coach as the Knicks made the Playoffs only twice in a seven-year span from 1976 to 1982.

Two dynamic and unforgettable personalities—both future Hall of Famers—played the central roles as the Knicks' fortunes turned in the early '80s...Head Coach Hubie Brown and scorer extraordinaire Bernard King. In 1984, Brown guided the Knicks to a memorable first-round playoff victory over Detroit. King developed into perhaps the greatest offensive force in club history, leading the NBA in scoring with a 32.9 average in 1984-85, becoming the Knicks' only League-leading scorer over the franchise's first 66 years.

JACKPOT!

On Mother's Day 1985, the Knicks won the rights to Georgetown superstar Patrick Ewing in the first-ever NBA Lottery. It would prove to be a major turning point in the club's history. Ewing authored 15 memorable years in New York, becoming an 11-time All-Star, the all-time club leader in virtually every category and arguably the greatest player to ever wear the orange and blue, a headline performer whose No. 33 would be hoisted to the Garden rafters in 2003. But a crippling 1985 knee injury to King set off a three-year dry spell in which the Knicks would win only 24, 23 and 24 games, missing the Playoffs all three years as Garden attendance plummeted.

But a decade-plus period in which the Knicks would again reign as one of the game's elite began in 1987-88. Under General Manager Al Bianchi and Hall of Fame-bound Head Coach Rick Pitino and buoyed by Rookie of the Year Mark Jackson, the Knicks gained a playoff spot in the season's final game. The next year, with newly-acquired Charles Oakley and Kiki Vandeweghe on board, the Knicks won 52 games (including 26 straight at home) and the Atlantic Division title. In 1989-90, behind an MVP-caliber season by Ewing, the Knicks rose from an 0-2 hole and defeated the arch-rival Celtics in the first playoff round with an emotional Game Five triumph at Boston Garden.

IT'S ALL ABOUT SOUL

Club president Dave Checketts - named on Mar. 1, 1991 - and eventual President and General Manager Ernie Grunfeld then guided the Knicks into an unforgettable era by hiring future Hall of Fame coach Pat Riley and adding the likes of Xavier McDaniel, Rolando Blackman, Anthony Mason, Doc Rivers, Charles Smith and Derek Harper. The Riley Era - 1991-92 through 1994-95 - resulted in an unprecedented four consecutive 50+ win seasons, two Atlantic Division titles, two trips to the Eastern Conference Finals, and a series of electrifying Playoff runs that captivated the entire nation.

In 1992-93, the Knicks rewrote the club record book with a franchise-record-tying 60 wins, a club record 37 home victories and, ultimately, their first appearance in the Eastern Conference Finals in nearly two decades.

Then, keyed by one of the greatest defensive units in NBA history (91.5 points allowed) and All-Star seasons from Ewing, Oakley and John Starks, the 1993-94 Knicks ended the three-year championship reign of the Chicago Bulls with an emotional playoff triumph, then bested Indiana to earn their first Eastern Conference Championship in 21 years, only to be denied the ultimate prize in a seven-game nail-biter NBA Finals series against Houston. A 55-win season in 1994-95 and a heartbreaking seven-game Playoff loss to Indiana were followed soon after by Riley's resignation as head coach.

As a final, fitting postscript to the Riley Era, both Ewing and Riley earned first-ballot election to the Basketball Hall of Fame with the Class of 2008.

JEFF'S TIME

After seven years as an assistant coach, youthful Jeff Van Gundy succeeded future Hall-of-Famer Don Nelson as head coach on Mar. 8, 1996. Following the 1995-96 season, Grunfeld engineered an extensive off-season facelift that put Larry Johnson, Allan Houston, Chris Childs and Buck Williams in Knicks uniforms. The results were a 57-win season in 1996-97, followed by an emotional first-round Playoff triumph over Miami in 1997-98, a season marred by a wrist fracture suffered by Ewing that sidelined the All-Star center for the final two-thirds of the regular season.

Electrifying Latrell Sprewell and youthful Marcus Camby came aboard in 1998-99 to help write one of the most memorable chapters in the club's storied history. Following a 27-23 regular season, the Knicks stormed from the East's eighth seed to win the Eastern Conference title with thrilling Playoff triumphs over arch-rivals Miami and

The Big Fella was a member of two NBA Finals teams.

Indiana and a decisive four-game sweep of Atlanta, before the ultimate heartbreak of a five-game Finals loss to San Antonio.

In 2000, the Knicks made their second straight march to the East Finals, highlighted by their third straight Playoff triumph over Miami, as Ewing concluded his 15-year, Hall of Fame Knick career. Van Gundy, meanwhile, would ultimately log 248 career wins to become the third-winningest coach in franchise history, behind only the storied duo of Holzman and Lapchick.

THE KNICKS ARE BACK...

Following the end of both the Knicks' string of 14 consecutive Playoff appearances and their decade-long streak of 433 home sellouts, Hall-of-Famer Isiah Thomas was appointed president, basketball operations on Dec. 22, 2003. Over the next five seasons, Hall-of-Famers Lenny Wilkens, Larry Brown and ultimately Thomas would coach the Knicks, with Wilkens leading New York to a Playoff berth in 2004.

The Knicks' latest resurgence began in the spring of 2008, with the naming of New York native Donnie Walsh as president, basketball operations and the hiring of Mike D'Antoni as head coach. In 2008-09, D'Antoni engineered a nine-game improvement in the win column. The following year, David Lee became the Knicks' first NBA All-Star since 2001 while Nate Robinson capped a span in which he won three NBA Slam Dunk Championships.

Meanwhile, Walsh presided over an extensive roster makeover climaxed by an eight-month period over 2010-11 in which the Knicks acquired perennial All-Stars Amar'e Stoudemire from Phoenix and Carmelo Anthony from Denver.

In 2010-11, the Knicks marched to their first winning record in a decade and their first Playoff berth since 2004. In 2011-12, newly-promoted General Manager Glen Grunwald named Mike Woodson head coach on Mar. 14, 2012. The Knicks went 18-6 under Woodson and nailed down their second straight Playoff berth, lifted by Anthony, NBA Defensive Player of the Year Tyson Chandler and unheralded free agent signee Jeremy Lin.

The 2012-13 campaign turned out to be one of the most memorable in recent team history, as Woodson guided the Knicks to 54 wins and their first Atlantic Division title in nearly two decades. Anthony led the NBA with a 28.7 scoring average, joining newly-minted Hall of Famer Bernard King as the only Knicks ever to pace the League in scoring. J.R. Smith was named the League's Sixth Man of the Year, while Chandler earned NBA All-Star honors. In the Playoffs, the Knicks defeated the arch-rival Celtics to advance to the East Semis for the first time since 2000. The following season, Anthony poured in 62 points against Charlotte on Jan. 24, 2014, eclipsing King's fabled 60-pointer on Christmas Day 1984 as the greatest single-game scoring performance in franchise history, and further validating Stoudemire's original 2010 promise that, "The Knicks are back!"

WELCOME BACK, PHIL

On Mar. 18, 2014, the Knicks named Hall of Famer Phil Jackson team president. It marked the most symbolic of homecomings, as Jackson earned the first two of his 13 NBA championship rings as a Knick in 1970 and 1973. Embarking on a new executive career following a coaching tenure in which he won 11 NBA titles, Jackson installed one of his most fabled players, five-time NBA Champion Derek Fisher, as Knicks head coach on Jun. 10, 2014. With championship pedigree at the top, the spectacular Garden Transformation now complete and the world's greatest basketball city behind it, New York's Team faces the 2010s with the promise of even greater heights.

The Name

The term "Knickerbockers" traces its origin to the Dutch settlers who came to the New World -- and especially to what is now New York -- in the 1600s. Specifically, it refers to the style of pants the settlers wore... pants that rolled up just below the knee, which became known as "Knickerbockers", or "knickers".

In 1809, legendary author Washington Irving solidified the knickerbocker name in New York lore when he wrote the satiric A History of New York from the Beginning of the World to the End of the Dutch Dynasty under the pseudonym Diedrich Knickerbocker. Later known as Knickerbocker's History of New York, Irving's book introduced the word "knickerbocker" to signify a New Yorker who could trace his or her ancestry to the original Dutch settlers.

With the publication of Irving's book, the Dutch settler "Knickerbocker" character became synonymous with New York City. The city's most popular symbol of the late 19th and early 20th centuries was "Father Knickerbocker", complete with cotton wig, three-cornered hat, buckled shoes, and, of course, knickered pants.

In Meredith Willson's 1957 The Music Man, Professor Harold Hill makes reference to "The kids in the knickerbockers" in the show-stopping song "(Ya Got) Trouble", then refers to the ultimate in adolescent rebellion by asking "The minute your son leaves the house, does he rebuckle his knickerbockers below the knee?"

At the same time, the term "Knickerbocker" became indelibly linked to anything and everything New York...from Jacob Ruppert's Knickerbocker Beer to the 1938 Broadway musical Knickerbocker Holiday (which starred Walter Huston and featured the haunting "September Song") to famed society gossip columnists Cholly Knickerbocker (the nom de plume used by Maury Paul and Igor Cassini) and Suzy Knickerbocker (Aileen Mehle).

The Knickerbocker name had its first use in the sports world in 1845, when Alexander Cartwright's Manhattan-based baseball team -- the first organized team in baseball history -- was named the "New York Knickerbockers" or the "Knickerbocker Nine". The Knickerbocker name stayed with the team even after it moved its base of operations to Elysian Fields at Hoboken, N.J. in 1846. (The baseball link may have prompted Casey Stengel to joyously exclaim, "It's great to be back as the manager of the Knickerbockers!" when he was named pilot of the newborn Mets in 1961).

General Research Division, The New York Public Library, Astor, Lenox and Tilden Foundations

Thus, the Knickerbocker name had been an integral part of the New York scene for more than a century when the Basketball Association of America granted a charter franchise to the city in the summer of 1946. As can best be determined, the final decision to call the team the "Knickerbockers" was made by the club's founder, the legendary Ned Irish.

The late Fred Podesta, the longtime Garden executive who passed away in 1999, once recalled, "The name came out of a hat. We were all sitting in the office one day -- Irish, (publicity man) Lester Scott and a few others on the staff. We each put a name in the hat, and when we pulled them out, most of them said Knickerbockers, after Father Knickerbocker, the symbol of New York City. It soon was shortened to Knicks."

In keeping with another New York tradition, the team's colors have always (except for the years from 1979-80 through 1982-83) been orange, blue and white...the official colors of New York City.

So now you know.

The Logo

Including minor color and style alterations, the Knicks have used only three primary logos in their 70-year history:

Father Knick: The original Knicks logo, used from the inaugural 1946-47 season through 1963-64, was that of a smiling Father Knickerbocker dribbling a basketball, the brainchild of famed sports cartoonist Willard Mullin of the New York World-Telegram. Aside from the original's frequent inclusion on "Throwback" and "Hardwood Classics" merchandise, a restyled Father Knick made a comeback in 2014-15 as the primary logo of the D-League's Westchester Knicks.

Old School Classic: For the 1964-65 season, the Knicks unveiled their "classic roundball" logo, created by artist Bud Freeman of the J.C. Bull advertising agency. It was the logo under which the Knicks won both of their NBA Championships, and, with minor color and style alterations, remained in use through 1991-92, a total of 28 seasons.

Alterations to the "classic roundball" logo included maroon lettering (1980-81 through 1982-83), and the "brown ball" (1983-84 through 1988-89) and "orange ball" (1989-90 through 1991-92) versions that were introduced to more closely conform to standard PMS colors.

During the late '60s and early '70s, the Knicks also used a secondary "ball-in-the-box" logo on game tickets and selected club merchandise.

The Triangle: On Jun. 17, 1992, the Knicks unveiled a unique, updated version of the club logo, featuring three-dimensional, modernized lettering newly framed in a triangle. The new logo was designed by NBA Marketing, an effort headed by creative director Tom O'Grady.

In 1995-96, the words "New York" were added at the top of the logo. In 2011-12, several subtle style changes were made, including bolder trim, a shade of silver and the elimination of the black dropshadow beneath the letters.

The "triangle" logo will be in use for its 24th season in 2015-16. Now one of the NBA's iconic symbols, the "triangle" is predated as an NBA primary logo in terms of continuous use only by those of the Celtics (Zang Auerbach), Bulls (Dean Wessel), Trail Blazers (original pinwheel design by Frank Glickman), Pacers, Lakers, Heat and Suns.

And a gentle reminder - While the Knicks logo has sometimes been depicted without the triangle, please note that the "triangle" version - and nothing else - is the definitive primary club symbol.

And More: While the "triangle" logo remains the Knicks' primary trademark, the club has used several additional secondary logos, including the short-lived "Big Apple" logo in 1978-79, the Golden Anniversary logo in 1996-97, the "Knicks 2000" millennium logo in 1999-2000, the familiar "NYK Subway Token" logo, and - introduced in 2011-12 - a newly-designed "roundball" logo that updates the "ball-in-the-box" emblem of the late '60s and early '70s.

First introduced in 1995-96, the "NYK Subway Token" logo took on additional nostalgic value with the formal retirement of the subway token by the city's Transportation Authority in spring 2003. Several subtle changes, including a thinning of the letter font, were incorporated into the "Subway Token" logo in 2011-12. The "Subway Token" logo was added to the backs of the players' jerseys in 2002-03, then replaced by the new secondary "roundball" logo as part of a new uniform design unveiled on Sep. 6, 2012.

An extensive visual history is included in a special pullout in this book.

A listing of some of the milestone dates in the Knickerbockers' 69-year history as a charter member of the NBA:

Jun. 6, 1946: The Knicks are born at the first organizational meeting of the Basketball Association of America. New York is granted a charter franchise, along with Boston (Celtics), Philadelphia (Warriors), Providence (Steamrollers), Toronto (Huskies), Washington (Capitols), Chicago (Stags), Cleveland (Rebels), Detroit (Falcons), Pittsburgh (Ironmen) and St. Louis (Bombers)...Of the 11 original NBA franchises, only the Knicks, Celtics and Warriors remain, with the Knicks and Celtics the only two charter members still in their original cities.

Jul. 23, 1946: New York's BAA entry announces it will be known as the Knickerbockers and will wear the City's official colors of orange and blue.

Nov. 1, 1946: The First Game in team and League history is played. The Knicks defeat Toronto, 68-66, at fabled Maple Leaf Gardens. Leo Gottlieb leads the Knicks with 12 points.

Nov. 11, 1946: The Big Apple sees its team for the first time, as the Knicks make their home debut before a crowd of 17,205 at the Old Garden on 49th Street. The Knicks lose to Chicago, 78-68, in overtime. Former CCNY star Sonny Hertzberg, leads the Knicks with 14 points.

May 24, 1950: Knicks purchase the contract of future Hall of Famer Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton from the Harlem Globetrotters...On Nov. 5, 1950 at Tri-Cities, he becomes the first African-American player to appear in a regular season game for the Knicks.

Apr. 12, 1952: In the first game of the NBA Finals against the Lakers at St. Paul, the Knicks are victimized by a legendary non-call by officials Sid Borgia and Stan Stutz. Late in the first period, New York's Al McGuire hits a driving layup, and is fouled. However, McGuire is sent to the line for two free throws...Borgia and Stutz merely called the foul, and neither saw the ball go in the basket! Despite the protest of coach Joe Lapchick (including a personal appeal to NBA commissioner Maurice Podoloff, seated courtside), the call stands. McGuire goes to the line and hits one of two free throws. So, instead of a possible three points on the play, the Knicks get just one. Ultimately, it proves most costly as the Lakers win in overtime, 83-79, en route to a seven-game series triumph.

Jan. 21, 1954: The Old Garden hosts the NBA All-Star Game for the first time, and 16,487 see the East triumph in overtime, 98-93, behind Bob Cousy's 20 points. George Mikan's two (underhanded) free throws with no time left in regulation send the game into the extra session. It's the first of three NBA All-Star Games that will be played at the Old Garden.

Mar. 2, 1962: In the greatest single-game scoring performance in NBA history, Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain scores 100 points as the Warriors defeat the Knicks, 169-147, at Hersheypark Arena in front of 4,124 fans.

Dec. 9, 1967: Before a packed Garden house of 18,499, and a worldwide press contingent, Bill Bradley makes his long-awaited Knicks debut. Entering the game at the start of the second quarter, Dollar Bill nails his first pro shot, a left-side baseline jumper. Bradley winds up with eight points in 20 minutes, but it isn't enough as the Knicks lose to Detroit, 124-121.

Dec. 27, 1967: Minutes following a 114-105 home loss to the 76ers, Red Holzman is named head coach, replacing Dick McGuire.

Jan. 23, 1968: Three weeks before closing its doors forever, the Old Garden plays host to its third and last NBA All-Star Game. Before a sellout crowd of 18,422, Philadelphia's Hal Greer scores 21 points to lead the East to a 144-124 win. Of the 27 players and coaches selected to participate in the 1968 Game, 15 of them would be named among the NBA's 50 Greatest Players at the League's Golden Anniversary celebration in 1996-97. The '68 All-Star Game is the first NBA All-Star Game to be televised live from coast-to-coast on a major network (ABC) in prime time.

Feb. 10 and 14, 1968: Farewell to one home, hello to another. The Knicks play their last game at the Old Garden, and then, four days later, play their first game at the New Garden. The Knicks win both, taking the finale on 49th Street, 115-97, over the 76ers, then winning their first game at 33rd and 7th, 114-102, over San Diego.

Dec. 19, 1968: "The Trade" – General Manager Eddie Donovan acquires Dave DeBusschere from Detroit for Walt Bellamy and Howard Komives.

Nov. 28, 1969: "What a game! What a game!" shouts TV voice Bob Wolff. Knicks score six points in the final :16 to defeat Cincinnati, 106-105, and run their winning streak to a then-NBA record 18 straight games. The game against the Bob Cousy-coached Royals is played at the old Cleveland Arena, later the original home of the Cavs and immortal in rock 'n roll history as the site of Alan Freed's legendary 1952 Moondog Coronation Ball.

May 8, 1970: The greatest moment in franchise history and the Defining Moment in Madison Square Garden annals, the Knicks defeat the Lakers, 113-99, in Game Seven of the NBA Finals. Willis Reed's last-minute entrance ignites the Garden and provides the inspiration for the team's first NBA Championship. Walt Frazier provides the devastation with perhaps the greatest Finals performance in League history with 36 points and 19 assists.

Nov. 10, 1971: In a stunning trade engineered by Red Holzman, longtime nemesis Earl "The Pearl" Monroe is acquired from Baltimore, and the future Hall of Famer will team with Walt Frazier to form one of the deadliest backcourts in NBA history.

Nov. 18, 1972: Trailing Milwaukee, 86-68, late in the fourth quarter, Knicks run off 19 straight points in the game's final 5:11 to defeat the Bucks, 87-86, at MSG, in perhaps the most famous regular season game in club history.

Apr. 22, 1973: One of MSG's Defining Moments, roaring back from a 17-point second-half deficit, Knicks outlast Boston, 117-110, in a 2OT thriller in Game Four of the East Finals. Walt Frazier leads the way with 37 points, as Knicks take a 3-1 series lead over Boston.

Apr. 29, 1973: After squandering a 3-1 series lead with losses in Games Five and Six, Knicks nail down the Eastern Conference title with a do-or-die 94-78 Game Seven triumph at Boston, becoming the first team ever to defeat the Celtics in Game Seven of a Playoff series.

May 10, 1973: CHAMPS AGAIN! Knicks 102, Lakers 93 in Game Five of the Finals at the LA Forum. Earl Monroe scores a game-high 23 points, while Willis Reed is named Finals MVP for the second time in four years.

Dec. 25, 1984: Bernard King pours in 60 points - a Knicks single-game record that would stand for nearly three decades - in a 120-114 Christmas Day loss to New Jersey at the Garden.

Mar. 23, 1985: On his way to becoming the first Knick to lead the League in scoring (32.9 ppg), Bernard King suffers a torn right anterior cruciate ligament in a game at Kansas City, an injury that will haunt the Knicks for years to come.

May 12, 1985: Knicks win the first-ever NBA Draft Lottery, enabling them to select Georgetown center Patrick Ewing in the upcoming NBA Draft.

Oct. 13, 1989: Cancer claims the life of John F.X. Condon, the beloved and legendary public address voice of the Knicks and the Garden, at age 75.

Jan. 15, 1990: Trent Tucker's three-point bomb off a Mark Jackson inbound (coming with the bare minimum of 0:00.1 showing on the clock) gives the Knicks a 109-106 Martin Luther King Day win over Chicago at the Garden and leads the following year to the institution of the 0.3-second "Trent Tucker Rule."

May 6, 1990: Knicks complete one of the most stunning turnarounds in Playoff history with a 121-114 Game Five victory at Boston, enabling them to snap an overall 26-game losing streak at Boston Garden and become just the third team in League history to rally from an 0-2 deficit to win a best-of-five series.

May 25, 1993: "The Dunk" - In the final minute of Game Two of the East Finals against Chicago, John Starks authors perhaps the single most famous play in Knicks history, splitting the Bulls defense for a driving, left-handed tomahawk slam that sends the Garden into a frenzy. Coming with :47.3 left, The Dunk gives the Knicks a five-point lead in their eventual 96-91 win. Famed NBA photographer Nathaniel S. Butler immortalizes the play with an amazing image.

Dec. 16, 1993: Patrick Ewing becomes the Knicks' all-time leading scorer with his 14,618th career point, passing Walt Frazier (14,617). Ewing's record-breaker is a 12-foot baseline jumper (Oakley assist) with 9:39 left in the third quarter of a 108-85 win over the Lakers at MSG.

Jun. 5, 1994: Knicks earn their first trip to the NBA Finals in 21 years, defeating Indiana, 94-90, in Game Seven of the East Finals at MSG. Ewing authors the game's key play, a follow-up, two-handed slam of Starks' missed layup, to give NY the lead for good with :26.9 left.

Mar. 28, 1995: The Double Nickel Game...Two weeks after returning to basketball, Chicago's Michael Jordan scores 55 points (21-37 FGA, 3-4 from Downtown, 10-11 FTA) to lead the Bulls to a 113-111 win over the Knicks at MSG.

Knicks become just the second eighth-seeded team in Playoff history to defeat a first-seed, and knock the arch-rival Heat out of the Playoffs for the second of three straight years.

Jun. 5, 1999: "The Four-Point Play" - Larry Johnson's first career four-point play (3PT FGM, fouled by Antonio Davis, FTM), with :05.7 left, echoes throughout the basketball world and gives the Knicks a 92-91 win over Indiana in Game Three of the East Finals at MSG.

Youngest/Oldest Players

In 2004 and 2005, Trevor Ariza and Jackie Butler surpassed Carl Braun as the youngest man to have ever worn the orange and blue. Braun signed a baseball contract after his sophomore year at Colgate and forfeited his amateur status across the board in all sports. The Knicks signed him in the summer of '47, two years before his class graduated and he made his pro basketball debut on Nov. 13, 1947 against Washington.

The oldest player to appear in a game for the Knicks was Herb Williams, who was 41 years, four months and nine days when he made his final appearance in Game 5 of the 1999 NBA Finals against San Antonio on Jun. 25, 1999 to register one minute played. His last regular season appearance was on May 2, 1999 at Indiana at 41 years, two months and 16 days old.

Dick McGuire New York Knickerbocker Legacy Award

In 2009, the New York Knicks created a special annual honor to be given to the individual who exudes the qualities of what it means to be a Knickerbocker: Pride, Tradition & Class. No one in the franchise's history exemplified this more than Dick McGuire, a man associated with the Knicks for over 53 years. At the first ceremony on Mar. 23, 2009, it was formally announced at center court that the award would be forever known as the "Dick McGuire New York Knickerbocker Legacy Award."

Welcome to the 2015-16 Knickerbockers season, New York's 70th campaign as a charter member of the NBA. Here are a few guidelines which we hope will assist you in your coverage this season:

Credentials: Three media credentials are honored for admission to the Garden: 1) Knicks 2015-16 season working media passes; 2) Knicks daily passes (good for that specific game only), and 3) 2015-16 NBA identification card. Knicks and/or NBA season working media passes must include the headshot of the bearer. Holders of daily passes may be asked to submit a valid government-issued photo ID. NO OTHER CREDENTIALS WILL BE HONORED.

Application for season or game credentials may be made by emailing knicks.credentials@msg.com and must be submitted by your outlet's editor. Requests for single game credentials must be made by e-mail to the Knicks' office at least 48 hours prior to game time. Day-of-game requests will not be honored. Radio stations, magazines and weekly newspapers will be accommodated on a game-by-game, space-available basis. When applying for the first time, requests from magazines and weekly newspapers, websites, radio and TV stations must be made by an editor and must include copies of the publication and web analytics (if applicable). Applying for credentials does not guarantee confirmation. When in the Garden, media members must wear their credentials in clear sight at all times. All credentials are non-transferable. Please adhere to the above to avoid embarrassing situations for both yourself and for us.

Coaches Pre and Post-Game: Knicks Head Coach Derek Fisher will conduct his pre and post-game media sessions in the Press Conference Room, located down the hall from the visitors' lockerroom, on the fifth floor. A multi-box/amplification system will be set up. The pregame session will take place 90 minutes prior to tip-off (for example, 6:00 p.m. for a 7:30 game). During post-game coach's media sessions, priority must be given to those media on deadline (print and live broadcast), and interviews should be limited to game comments during the deadline crunch.

Game-Day Interviews: Participating radio and TV stations/networks are strongly urged to conduct their game-day interviews at the morning shootaround, rather than at the arena prior to the game.

Locker Rooms: Both the Knicks and visitors' locker rooms are located at court level on the 33rd Street (player benches) side of the Garden. As per NBA regulations, the Knicks' locker room will be open for a 30-minute period, ending 45 minutes prior to game time (for example, the room will be open from 6:15 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. for a 7:30 start). The room will reopen within 15 minutes after the final buzzer. During post-game media sessions, priority must be given to those media on deadline (print and live broadcast), and interviews should be limited to game comments during the deadline crunch. Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a working atmosphere in the locker rooms at all times. Any media members using their credentials for the purpose of obtaining autographs or taking photographs for personal use will have their credentials immediately revoked. Photos are not allowed to be taken in the locker room.

Notes: Game notes are available in the John F.X. Condon Press Room beginning two hours prior to game time. (For visiting media, game notes, credentials, media guide and recent news clips will be delivered to their hotel the night before, or the morning of, the game). Game notes, running sheets, quarter-by-quarter sheets and box scores are all available from the Knicks gamenight staff, as well as in the press workroom during and after the game. Post-game quotes, notes, practice information and boxscores of other NBA games will be available in the press workroom as soon as possible after the game.

Parking: There is no media parking area at Madison Square Garden. However, there are numerous pay indoor and outdoor parking areas in the immediate vicinity.

Phones: Media wishing to order a phone line for their exclusive use should call Bill Bolan of Garden Telecommunications at (212) 465-6009, and must also inform Knicks PR so that a specific location can be assigned. Due to the quick changeover for other Garden events, all post-game stories should be filed from the press workroom and not from the press seats.

Photographers: Positions for credentialed photographers are numbered and located on the baselines at the Seventh Avenue and Eighth Avenue ends of the Garden, as well as in sections 105/106WC and 108/109WC. There are no photo positions along the sidelines. Freelance photographers will not be credentialed unless they are on specific assignment from a magazine or daily newspaper. No "roving" passes are issued and photographers cannot shoot from anywhere outside their assigned spot. If you do not have a spot, you will have to work out of the press room.

Please Note The Following Photo Regulations:

- Please consult the posted photo charts for your assigned positions.
- Please do not move from your assigned photo positions during game action. Movement is permitted only during timeouts and quarter breaks.
- Please shoot only from your assigned positions unless cleared to move by a Knicks PR representative.
- Please do not move into any photo position marked "Reserved".
- Messengers are not permitted to sit at courtside.
- Please store all coats, jackets and extra equipment in the press room.
- Please keep your courtside equipment to a bare minimum (one small Domke bag).
- All still and TV photographers must observe the NBA's mandatory "Five-Foot Lane" rule.

Baseline photo positions are extremely limited. Due to frequent national TV coverage of Knicks home games, additional space must be reserved for hand-held TV cameras and will greatly reduce the available space for still photographers.

In addition to the "Four-Foot Lane" rule, please be aware of other NBA-enforced regulations: All still and TV cameras must have rubber-capped lenses. Cameras mounted on the basket stanchion must be set back at least four inches from the edge of the padding. Cameras mounted behind the backboard cannot be visible inside the target box from any angle. Tripods and remote cameras placed on the court surface are not permitted. Use of flash is not permitted.

Pregame Court Access: Media are permitted to stand courtside to watch pregame warm-up starting with 90 minutes on the game clock. However, media must remain on the baselines and sidelines of the court. Under no circumstances, should media walk directly on the inbound portion of the court or interrupt player pregame warm-up routines. At the 5:00 mark on the game clock, all media without courtside positions must leave the court and head to their game-time assigned area.

Practices: Knicks practice sessions are held at Madison Square Garden Training Center in Greenburgh, NY, located in Westchester County approximately 28 miles north of New York City.

Players will be available on the court for 15-30 minutes after practice. Player availability will be preceded by a media session with Coach Fisher.

Knicks practices are always subject to last-minute change and/or cancellation. Media covering practice should always call the Knicks PR office to confirm times before trekking to Greenburgh.

The Road to Greenburgh: Here are the suggested routes to MSG Training Center:

Use the press elevator to enter the Garden arena. The locker rooms and court are located on level five, the John F.X. Condon Press Room on level six.

Press Room: Named in memory of the legendary public address voice of the Garden, the John F.X. Condon Press Room is located on the first promenade level of the Garden at 33rd Street and Eighth Avenue (behind the Knicks' bench, one level up). From the press entrance, take the elevator directly to level six.

The fifth floor dining area (hot and cold entrees) opens 90 minutes prior to game time. The press workroom is located above the dining area, with work stations for print, photo and broadcast media. The press workroom is for the exclusive use of working media filing on deadline. Please confine all social gatherings, arguments, debates and other such conversations to the dining area, so that a professional atmosphere can be maintained in the workroom. If you are not a working media member filing on deadline, please show a sense of professionalism and leave the work area for those who are.

Your $8 contribution to the press room will benefit "Garden of Dreams Foundation," the 501 C 3 non-profit charity that works closely with the Knicks and Rangers to make dreams come true for kids in crisis. Thank you for your support.

Your press room hosts are Joe Pinto, Tom Matthews, Anthony DiGiovanni, Jason Adamita and Deb Van.

Seating: Press seating at the Garden has been altered due to the completion of the Transformation. There are three working press sections: 215P, 31st Street Bridge (located between Tower A & B) and 223P. Home and visiting English radio remain in section 223P, while Spanish radio has been relocated to the 31st Street Bridge.

Please check the seating chart located in the Press Room to see where you will be seated. If you are not listed on the chart, you can watch the game from the press room.

Taxi!: Taxi service is readily available virtually 24 hours a day at various points around the Garden, especially at the main entrance to Penn Station (Seventh Avenue between 31st and 33rd Streets) and immediately outside the 8 Penn Plaza press entrance (southeast corner of 33rd Street and Eighth Avenue, across from the Post Office).

Television Regulations:

Live Shots: Stations intending to produce live shots from the Garden must inform Knicks PR and MSG Electricians at (212) 465-6194 for appropriate coverage. All in-arena taping and live shots must be concluded by one hour prior to game time.

Game Footage: With the exception of NBA Entertainment, TV crews are not permitted to shoot game footage. All requests for game footage must be made through NBA Entertainment.

Electricians: Any TV stations or organizations whose equipment is not battery-operated must use MSG Electricians for connection to power. Call (212) 465-6194 for more information.

Original list compiled by Dave Halberstam & Dick Barhold

When usually I came to visit him at dusk there was nothing to do.
He stood in the shack, counting tickets and rubbing his belly.
The radio was always on. "Man, have you dug that mad Marty Glickman announcing basketball games – up-to-midcourt-bounce-fake-set-shot, swish, two points. Absolutely the greatest announcer I ever heard." He was reduced to simple pleasures like these.

1879-1889: 26th Street and Madison Avenue

BEGINNINGS

The current Garden - located between 31st and 33rd Streets and Seventh and Eighth Avenues on Manhattan's West Side - is the fourth building (third site) to be named Madison Square Garden.

Garden I was located at Madison Square: 26th Street and Madison Avenue. It was originally opened in 1874 (at a cost of $35,000) by the legendary P.T. Barnum as "Barnum's Monster Classical and Geological Hippodrome." However, it was soon renamed "Gilmore's Garden" when the lease was auctioned off to bandmaster Patrick S. Gilmore (the term "Garden" was used often during this period to denote a place of public gathering and entertainment).

The building, which had 28-foot walls without a roof, hosted a varied schedule of social and fraternal meetings, flower shows and commercial exhibitions. When Gilmore's lease expired in 1878, it was picked up - briefly - by W. M. Tileson. The following year, William Vanderbilt of the New York Central Railroad assumed control of the facility and officially renamed it "Madison Square Garden" on May 31, 1879. Featuring a sports and entertainment program that stressed such events as boxing and the National Horse Show, Garden I stood until its demolition in 1889.

Garden II was constructed on the site of Garden I, opening on Jun. 16, 1890 at a cost of $1.5 million. It contained an 8,000-seat main arena, 1,500-seat concert hall, 1,200-seat theatre and the world's largest indoor swimming pool. The Spanish Renaissance-style structure was topped by its most famous feature: a 32-story tower and roof garden atop which stood Augustus Saint-Gauden's gold statue of Diana, Goddess of the Hunt.

Stanford White, the renowned architect who designed Garden II, also figured in its most famous - and infamous - event. On the night of Jun. 25, 1906, White was gunned down in the Garden's rooftop garden by Pittsburgh millionaire Harry Thaw, allegedly in revenge for White's long-standing affair with Thaw's wife, showgirl Evelyn Nesbit. The White-Thaw-Nesbit love triangle was ultimately immortalized in the 1955 film The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing - starring Ray Milland as White and Joan Collins as Nesbit - and in the recent best-seller American Eve by Paula Uruburu (Riverhead Books, 2008). Nesbit died in obscurity in California at age 81 in 1967.

Garden II hosted a sporting card heavy with boxing, wrestling, six-day bicycle races and horse shows, along with national events such as the 1924 Democratic National Convention, a marathon that lasted through 16 days and 103 ballots. Movie buffs will recall that in Orson Welles' 1941 classic Citizen Kane, Charles Foster Kane's acceptance of the 1916 New York gubernatorial nomination takes place at Garden II (although, obviously, it wasn't actually filmed there).

Garden II closed with a boxing card on May 5, 1925, followed by a mournful eulogy by ring announcer Joe Humphreys: "Farewell to thee, o temple of fistiana. Farewell to thee, o sweet Miss Diana..." The New York Life Insurance Building (51 Madison Avenue) occupies the former site of Gardens I and II, while Diana found a new home at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

Garden III - the "Old Garden" was built in just 249 days at 49th Street and Eighth Avenue under the watchful eyes of promoter Tex Rickard and architect Thomas Lamb. The fabled 18,000-seat arena, built at a cost of $5.6 million, opened with a six-day bicycle race on Nov. 24, 1925, and for 43 years was America's premier sports and entertainment showplace. Ironically, Rickard did not live to see the blossoming of Garden III, suffering a fatal appendicitis attack on Jan. 6, 1929.

Anyone who ever set foot in the Old Garden remembers its unforgettable atmosphere...the sky-high balcony...the haze from decades of cigarette smoke...the main lobby, a schmoozer's paradise... the marquee...G.O. Cards... the organ (played first by Gladys Goodding, later by Virginia Thomas)... the unmistakable voice of John Condon...the Nedick's and Adam Hats stores that flanked the main entrance...

1890-1925: 26th St. and Madison Ave.

Sports – especially basketball, hockey, boxing and track – would be the lifeblood of the Old Garden. But it also hosted entertainment extravaganzas ranging from the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus and the Gene Autry Rodeo to star-studded spectacles like Mike Todd's 1957 anniversary party for his film Around the World in 80 Days and President John

1925-1968: 49th Street and Eighth Avenue

F. Kennedy's May 19, 1962 birthday party which featured Marilyn Monroe's breathless version of "Happy Birthday." On the screen, the Garden provided the inspiration (and title) for the 1932 Paramount epic Madison Square Garden, starring Jack Oakie and ZaSu Pitts, as well as the on-location backdrop for the harrowing final reel of John Frankenheimer's 1962 classic The Manchurian Candidate.

The Knicks played their first game at Garden III on Nov. 11, 1946, losing to the Chicago Stags, 78-68, in overtime. In the 22 years the Knicks played on 49th Street, they would record just six sellouts, including the most famous of all – the long-awaited pro debut of Bill Bradley against Detroit before 18,499 fans and a worldwide media contingent on Dec. 9, 1967.

Garden III played host to three NBA All-Star Games: in 1954, 1955 and 1968. And although the Knicks made the NBA Finals three straight years in 1951-52-53, the Old Garden never hosted a Finals game. Due to circus scheduling conflicts, all Finals games in those three seasons were moved to the 69th Regiment Armory on Lexington Ave. The Garden didn't host an NBA Finals game until 1970, two years after the move to 33rd and Seventh.

The Knicks played their final game at the Old Garden on February 10, 1968, a 115-97 win over Philadelphia. The last event ever was the Westminster Dog Show, over Feb. 12-13, 1968. After the Old Garden was demolished, the site was used for years as a Kinney parking lot. The Worldwide Plaza office/apartment complex, which opened in 1989, now occupies the site.

GARDEN IV

On Nov. 3, 1960, Garden president Irving Mitchell Felt announced plans for a new Madison Square Garden - Garden IV - to eventually be built at 33rd Street between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, atop Pennsylvania Station.

Prospective sites for a New Garden had been discussed throughout the mid- and late-'50s, especially the area at Columbus Circle which would eventually house the New York Coliseum and, ultimately, the Time Warner Center.

Then the Garden Corporation obtained the coveted "air rights" above Penn Station from the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1961. The Railroad had entertained the idea of selling Penn Station's air rights as far back as 1951, when faced with a $72 million deficit. In 1955, Railroad president James Symes and famed real estate developer William Zeckendorf signed an agreement to option the Station's air rights for an industrial-commercial "Palace of Progress," with a new, renovated Penn Station below street level. When the project fell through, the Railroad sold the air rights to the Garden Corporation. Above-ground demolition of Penn Station began on Oct. 28, 1963, with new concrete poured starting on May 1, 1964.

The effort was not without its critics, one of whom called the destruction of Penn Station "an act of irresponsible public vandalism." Ultimately, Penn Station's legacy was the New York City Landmarks Preservation Commission, the guiding force behind a series of laws that today protect more than 1,000 individual city landmarks.

Garden IV opened as a glittering sports and entertainment showplace, with its distinctive circular, cable-suspended roof above the 19,000-seat arena, its 5,000-seat Felt Forum, 48-lane Bowling Center, 500-seat cinema, Hall of Fame Club, National Art Museum of Sport, 50,000-square foot Exposition Rotunda and 29-story office building (Two Penn Plaza) attached by a pedestrian mall.

The first element of the New Garden complex to open its doors was the Bowling Center, on Oct. 30, 1967. On Nov. 26, 1967, the Felt Forum opened with a performance of the Welsh and Scots Guards.

The "New Garden" itself officially opened on Feb. 11, 1968, when Bob Hope and Bing Crosby hosted "The Night of the Century", a star-studded salute to the USO. Three days later – Feb. 14, 1968 - the Knicks played their first game in their new home, a 114-102 victory over the San Diego Rockets in the nightcap of an NBA doubleheader.

INSIDE THE GARDEN

1968- Present: 33rd Street and Eighth Avenue

- Cost for design and construction of the present Garden was $43 million.
- Garden IV was built by Turner Construction and the Del E. Webb Corporation. The building was designed by Charles Luckman, the fabled entrepreneur and architect who died in 1999. Luckman also designed the Los Angeles Convention Center, CBS Television City, the Prudential Center in Boston, the Johnson Space Center in Houston, and perhaps fittingly, The Forum in Los Angeles...which The Madison Square Garden Company acquired in 2011 and reopened as a state-of-the-art entertainment showplace in 2014 following a massive renovation-transformation.
- The Garden arena is 425 feet in diameter, 13 stories high, and occupies 820,000-square feet of real estate.
- Each of the four entrance/exit towers is over 100 feet high and contains at least 10 escalators.
- Seating capacity for Knicks basketball is currently 19,812, the highest basketball capacity figure in Garden history. The current figure was established at the completion of the Garden Transformation in 2013-14; it had previously been 19,033 in 2012-13 and the familiar 19,763 since 1991-92 (concurrent with the first Garden renovation from 1989-91). When the building first opened in 1968, listed seating capacity was 19,500.
- From Feb. 4, 1993 to Nov. 2, 2002, the Knicks compiled a streak of 433 consecutive home sellouts (regular season plus Playoffs, all at 19,763), the sixth-longest sellout streak in NBA history. The Knicks entered the 2015-16 season with a streak of 201 consecutive home sellouts (fifth-longest active streak in the NBA).
- The Garden opened the 2015-16 season as the second-oldest arena in the NBA. Only Oakland's Oracle Arena (originally opened in 1966 as the Oakland Coliseum Arena) is older. The Garden and Oracle Arena have both undergone extensive renovations over the last three decades, and in April 2014 the Warriors announced their intention to build a state-of-the-art arena and entertainment center in San Francisco. The 2015-16 campaign will mark the Knicks' 48th full season (49th season overall) in Garden IV.
- And even though the original Penn Station passed into history a half-century ago, several of its features survive. Sculptor Adolph Weinman's bronze statue of Pennsylvania Railroad President Samuel Rea, which once overlooked the main waiting room of Penn Station, now stands proudly at the Seventh Avenue entrance to Two Penn Plaza. Two of Weinman's 22 concrete eagles, which had adorned the Station's outside perimeter for 53 years, guard Seventh Avenue in front of Two Penn.

THROUGH THE YEARS

A look at the improvements/enhancements at Garden IV over the years:

1972: Garden IV becomes the first New York sports venue to install luxury boxes, formally named "Hall of Fame Lounges." The original deck of 11 luxury suites - each measuring 23x15 feet and accommodating 10 people - is installed above the mezzanine level on the 33rd Street side...Due to the ongoing luxury suite construction, basketball broadcast locations are moved to courtside and directly above center-court exit tunnels. Previously, they had been located in a two-level booth suspended from the roof.

1977: Original end zone scoreboards replaced by new 36-foot long scoreboards in each end zone, and smaller auxiliary boards on the facing of the mezzanine at center court. New boards feature tenth-of-a-second timing capabilities and black-and-white animated matrix boards.

1983: For TV purposes, basketball team benches and scorers' table moved from 31st Street side to 33rd Street side, remaining there ever since.

1989-91: Over a three-year span, the Garden complex undergoes an extensive renovation program. Initially announced on Jan. 26, 1989, it is a multi-million dollar effort in which

- Each of the original red, orange, yellow, green and blue seats is removed and replaced. Primary color scheme is now purple and teal.
- Existing scoreboards are replaced by a new computerized system that features the eight-sided Center Display Board (37 feet wide at the top, 34 feet wide at the bottom), complete with "GardenVision" color replay screens and multi-colored end zone boards, by White Way Company of Chicago. It is the first eight-sided scoreboard in a major U.S. arena. Original Garden sound system is also completely overhauled, including the replacement of the original center-hung "sound cluster" with an entirely new system of speaker clusters affixed to the arena ceiling.
- Original Hall of Fame Lounges (luxury boxes) are removed and replaced by a completely new deck of 89 Club Suites that encircles the entire arena, including a double-deck of suites on the Seventh Avenue end.
- The Paramount, a state-of-the-art, 5,600-seat theatre which quickly becomes a hub of Big Apple live entertainment, is constructed on the former site of the Felt Forum (renamed The Theatre in 1995, the WaMu Theatre in 2007, The Theatre at Madison Square Garden in 2009). Fronting the main entrance is the Garden Walk of Fame, which opens in 1992.
- Two major dining facilities - The Club Restaurant and the Play-By-Play sports bar and restaurant - are constructed on the former site of the Bowling Center and the Hall of Fame Club.
- Garden exterior completely renovated, including the installations of animated color matrix boards above the Seventh Avenue entrance to Penn Station and the Eighth Avenue facade.
- Dramatic upgrades and improvements in virtually all other facets of the Garden, especially concession stands (including all-new Food Courts), locker rooms, press room, box office, Garden Team Store and broadcast facilities.

1995: Knicks and Rangers locker room areas are further renovated and expanded, including increased player/locker space, expanded training and x-ray facilities and individual offices for all coaches.

2000-08: Ongoing improvement program in the new century featured "GardenVision" upgraded to HDTV format and continued expansion of locker rooms, coaches offices, arena sound system, video facilities and exterior advertising capability. Also added were fan amenities including an all-new Team Store at Gate 75, the Garden Pub at Gate 70, The Prime Rib at Gate 76, and the Live at the Garden music museum/pub at Gate 66. New courtside Club seating for Knicks basketball was established in 2006, with an entirely new LED and Matrix center scoreboard and side out-of-town boards installed the following year.

The improvements and upgrades that opened the 21st Century at the Garden served as the prelude to one of the most ambitious arena projects in American history, formally announced on April 3, 2008 and completed in the autumn of 2013.

AND A NEW ERA DAWNS...

In fall 2013 the three-year, historic Transformation of Madison Square Garden was completed, providing a significantly enhanced experience for customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and marketing partners, from the first row to the last. The project involved over 2.6 million man hours of union labor, the equivalent of at least 1,300 full-time jobs, creating as many as 3,700 union construction jobs. It also restored The Garden's iconic ceiling and pay homage to the building's storied history. The project's architect was Brisbin Brook Beynon, Construction Manager was Turner and Project Manager was JLL.

"New York is not a city. It is a set of cities, dozens of them, divided by caste, class, taste and blood. Most of us are welcome in a few of these cities, barred from others by tradition, or fear, or indifference, or income. But all of us hold safe conduct passes to The Garden. It is a center of experience for the same reason New York is: nothing is out of place there. Walk through a neighborhood of New York and you will find people who would never dream of setting foot in Carnegie Hall, the Empire State Building, the Fillmore East, Sunnyside Gardens, The Four Seasons, or the Bronx Zoo. Madison Square Garden is alien to none of us."

- Jeff Greenfield, 1974

Knicks Home Arena Evolution

1946-47 through 1959-60: Knicks split their home schedule between Garden III (49th St. and 8th Ave.) and the 69th Regiment Armory (25th St. and Lexington Ave.)...In their inaugural season of 1946-47, Knicks play just seven home games at MSG...Due to circus conflicts, each of the Knicks' nine home games in the 1951, 1952 and 1953 NBA Finals is played at the Armory (the Garden did not host an NBA Finals game until 1970).

Jan. 16, 1960: Last Knicks game at 69th Regiment Armory (Knicks 132, Cincinnati 106; A-3,000)

1960-61: For the first time, Knicks play their entire home schedule at MSG.

Feb. 10, 1968: Last game at Garden III (Knicks 115, Philadelphia 97; A-18,499)

Feb. 14, 1968: First games at Garden IV (Boston 118, Detroit 96; Knicks 114, San Diego 102; A-17,639)

Feb. 14, 1991: Knicks reach 20-million mark in all-time Garden attendance.

With today's professional athletes having to compete at a higher level than ever before, the New York Knicks, along with the NHL's Rangers and WNBA's Liberty started to train year-round in the state-of-the-art Madison Square Garden Training Center in Greenburgh, NY in September of 2002. This facility is another proactive element of the organizations' continuing commitment towards supplying Madison Square Garden sports fans with the most competitive teams in their respective leagues.

Madison Square Garden Training Center offers the Knicks, Rangers and Liberty the opportunity to utilize the best equipment, the best training regimen, the best diets, the best environment – to elevate their performances when they open their respective schedules in the NBA, NHL and WNBA. The 105,000 square foot facility, set on 16 acres of private land in Westchester County, is equipped with well-appointed private areas and office space, exercise rooms with dedicated equipment for each team, the latest technology and first-class amenities.

The facility features two basketball courts and one NHL regulation-sized hockey rink. Each team's area within the Madison Square Garden Training Center includes:

- 1,800 square foot complete cardiovascular and weight room
- Steam rooms, whirlpool and cold plunge
- Players' lounges with leather sofas, lounge chairs, 42" High Definition Television, pool and ping pong tables and refreshment center.
- Gated parking lots located adjacent to a private entrance into the players' lounge.
- Tiered classrooms with high-back theater style seating
- State of the art video editing rooms
- Coaches' lounge/offices

The training center also features amenities to be shared by all teams, including a Hydro Worx 1000 aquatic therapy pool, a dining room with seating for 40 people and auxiliary locker rooms which can be utilized for visiting teams in need of additional practice time during their stay in New York.

Media accommodations include dedicated media rooms with workstations, pre-wired for phone and internet access, an interview room for one-on-one or small group interviews, as well as cabled locations for remote broadcast. On Oct. 30, 1996, New York was selected as one of eight charter members of the Women's Basketball Association (WNBA). Within four months, Carol Blazejowski, a member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, was named Vice President and General Manager for the New York franchise. Rebecca Lobo and Teresa Weatherspoon joined as the team's first players and the franchise name and logo were introduced.

The Liberty's and WNBA's first game was played on Jun. 21, 1997 in Los Angeles. Led by Head Coach Nancy Darsch, the Liberty defeated the L.A. Sparks, 67-57, before a crowd of 14,284 at the Great Western Forum. On Jun. 29, 1997, in front of a crowd of 17,780, the Liberty scored their first win at home, defeating Phoenix, 65-57.

The 2015 season marked the 19th Season for the Liberty and the WNBA, and set a franchise for wins and their first Eastern Conference title since 2002. On May 5, 2015, Basketball Hall of Famer Isiah Thomas was named team president, with responsibility for basketball and business operations, and is committed to using his considerable expertise to help further develop the Liberty, both on and off the court.

The team has finished first in the Eastern Conference four times and reached the WNBA Finals four times.
